LIHEAP is a federally-funded program to help low-income households pay their energy bills. Assistance is in the form of a direct payment to the utility company on behalf of an eligible applicant.

Eligibility is based on the household's total monthly income, which cannot exceed the LIHEAP income guidelines below.

Federal LIHEAP funds are for households with low incomes and high energy costs, prioritizing households with elderly, disabled persons and/or children under six years old.

LIHWAP is a federally-funded, COVID-relief program to help low-income households with a one-time payment on their past due water or sewage bill. Assistance is in the form of a direct payment to the participating water or wastewater service.

Program overview:

- LIHWAP can assist with only overdue water or sewage, not both, unless they appear on the same bill
- Applicants' water or wastewater provider must be enrolled in the LIHWAP program
- Applicants can apply simultaneously to LIHWAP and the Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP)
- Priority is given to those facing discontinuation of services
